

Unintended Pregnancy

Definition: Unintended pregnancy refers to pregnancies that were mistimed (for example, mother wanted them to occur "later") or unwanted at the time of conception. Unintended pregnancy is measured as: (unintended live births + abortions) divided by total pregnancies (live births + abortions).

Key Findings

- ❖ From 1998-2000, an estimated 53% of all pregnancies in Washington State were unintended. During that time, approximately 38% of live births were births from unintended pregnancies. The rate of unintended pregnancy resulting in live births has not changed significantly since 1994.^{1,2}
- ❖ An estimated 71% of women less than 20 years of age and 28% of women ages 30-34 reported births from unintended pregnancies.²
- ❖ Among live births, Black (about 57%) and American Indian /Alaska Native women (about 53%) were significantly more likely to report their birth was from an unintended pregnancy compared to Asian (about 38%) and White women (about 36%).²
- ❖ Grant recipients were significantly more likely to report their birth was from an unintended pregnancy (about 71%) than other women on Medicaid (51%) or women not receiving Medicaid (27%).²
- ❖ The Healthy People 2010 objective is to increase to 70% pregnancies that are intended.³
